

American Economic Journals Disclosure Statement

Date: November 1, 2018

Author Name: Patrick J. McEwan

Manuscript title: Voter Response to Peak and End Transfers: Evidence from a Conditional Cash Transfer Experiment

Disclosure statement: The author was a paid consultant for NORC at the University of Chicago in 2013. NORC was the evaluation contractor of the Honduran government during the Bono 10,000 experiment described in the manuscript. The author's duties included data analysis and the preparation of an impact evaluation report. These data were used in Benedetti, McEwan, and Ibararán (2016), cited in the manuscript. Some data from that paper are analyzed in the present paper, including administrative payment records and follow-up survey data.
