

Disclosure statement
Journal of Economic Literature

Diane Coyle
Bennett Professor of Public Policy

20 June 2019

Disclosure Statement: Measuring Progress: A Review Essay on The Pricing of Progress

No financial support was provided for this article. I have not received any amount in excess of $10,000 in consultancy fees or retainers from any organisation in the past three years.

I receive ongoing research funding from the UK Office for National Statistics via the Economic Statistics Centre of Excellence. The Bennett Institute has received funding of approximately $300,000 from LetterOne in 2019 to support other researchers in our Wealth Economy project on sustainability measurement.

I have no unpaid positions in any relevant organisations.

There are no other relevant disclosures.

With best wishes,

Professor Diane Coyle
Bennett Professor of Public Policy
University of Cambridge, UK
Email: dc700@cam.ac.uk

The Bennett Institute for Public Policy

Department of Politics and International Studies

Alison Richard Building
7 West Road
Cambridge, CB3 9DT