

Disclosure Statement for “Do Management Interventions Last? Evidence from India”

David McKenzie, World Bank

Funding for this study was received from the World Bank and from SEED at Stanford University. While the World Bank had the right to review the manuscript, none of these funders had the right to request changes in the analysis. I am not an officer, director, or board member of any organization. No other party had the right to review the manuscript, and I have no other interests to disclose.

A handwritten signature in cursive script, reading "David McKenzie".

David McKenzie, June 25, 2019