Disclosure statement for Jacques Crémer: “The value of incumbency when platforms face heterogeneous customers”

The research was supported in part by the Agence Nationale de la Recherche Scientifique under grant ANR-10-BLAN-1802-01, by the Jean-Jacques Laffont Digital Chair at the Toulouse School of Economics as well as of the European Research Council (ERC) under the European Union's Horizon 2020 research and innovation programme (grant agreement No 670494).

The Toulouse School of Economics, where I conduct my research, receives support from a variety of firms, none of them has any direct interest in the research reported here.

There was no IRB approval needed since we did not deal with human subjects.

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'J. Crémer', with a long horizontal stroke extending to the right.
