Re: Submission, “Long-term Contextual Effects in Education: Schools and Neighborhoods”

To whom it may concern:

I am writing this letter in response to the American Economic Associations disclosure policy.

The paper titled “Long-term Contextual Effects in Education: Schools and Neighborhoods” was produced with financial support from the Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council and from Ontario Graduate Scholarships. The paper has obtained IRB approval from University of Toronto’s Research Ethics Board (REB).

I have no conflict of interest to disclose. Neither I nor any close relative has received financial support from any individual, group or organization with a stake in the findings of this article. I am not an officer, director or board member of any organization with interests that relate to this article nor is any member of my immediate family. No party had the right to review the paper prior to circulation or submission.

Sincerely,

Jean-William Laliberté
