

Schoolgirls Not Brides: Secondary Education as a Shield against Child Marriage

Bastien MICHEL

Disclosure Statement

I hereby declare that I have no relevant or material financial interests that relate to the research described in this paper. I am not an officer, director, or board member of any relevant non-profit organizations or profit-making entities. The disclosures required above do not apply to any close relative or partner of mine, and no party has the right to review the paper prior to its circulation.

The research was funded by the SWEDD project in Niger, as well as by the UK Foreign, Commonwealth & Development Office awarded through J-PAL Post-Primary Initiative. I was paid for my work on this project as a principal investigator by the Government of Niger. The contract ensures the independence of the principal investigator vis-à-vis the Government of Niger and the liberty to publish the results of the research with no third party having any proprietary right to review the paper prior to its circulation.

We constructed the data set that we employ for analysis in this paper from surveys that we have conducted ourselves with all proper authorizations. The project was approved by the Institutional Review Boards at the Paris School of Economics (Reference 2019-001). To the best of my knowledge, I am also not aware of any relevant potential conflicts of interest this paper may have with any party.

I declare that I have no relevant or material financial interests that relate to the research described in this paper.

A handwritten signature in black ink, consisting of several overlapping, fluid strokes that form a stylized representation of the name Bastien Michel.